

The great body of the troops, however, we should conceive likely to be destined for Syria, to be landed at St. John D'Acra. Perhaps the troops stationed at Malta might be relieved by fresh troops, and the former garrison carried to Syria, together with the supplies of stores of every kind in great abundance, which have been collecting at Toulon and at their ports in the Italian republics.

These are not the only objects which this grand project would embrace; the capture of Sicily, and the recapture of Minorca; the conquest and establishment of Cyprus; and after having swept the seas in the straits, the transportation of troops to every part of Italy, would enable the French to catch Suvarrow in those toils which the French republic appears to have destined for all the depots of the earth.

Such a project were it only half accomplished, and there is nothing in it impracticable, nor improbable, would enable the French admiral to invite the British fleet to a close conference on the Irish coast, and to found the reuens to British naval superiority, an event which may God in his infinite mercy to the nations who are groaning under the infamy and rapacity—the tyranny and torture—the extortion and depravity of Britain—soon and effectually fulfil.

FLEETS.

"I was informed, that on the 5th May part of the Spanish fleet sailed from Cadiz, and was joined by the French fleet from Brest; and that Lord St. Vincent had been driven from his station by continued gales of wind from the westward; but on the 7th, seeing the fleet to windward, he made every exertion to gain them, but to no effect, the whole of his fleet being on a lee shore in nine fathoms water. The French and Spaniards, taking advantage of his situation, steered to the southward, in order to avoid falling in with his lordship. As soon as the weather moderated, he steered to the southward in pursuit of them. After five days research, and no appearance of the enemy, he bore away for the Mediterranean, which the former had entered on the 13th, their fleet consisting of seventeen sail of the line. On the morning of the 17th his lordship passed Gibraltar, with his fleet amounting to 15 sail of the line, with some lighter vessels.—There have since passed six 7's to reinforce his lordship. There I saw on the 20th about 20 leagues above Gibraltar.

The afternoon of my departure from Gibraltar, (May 23rd) it was reported the French and Spanish fleets were in Carthagena; and that six sail of the Spaniards having sailed on a cruise, met with a heavy gale of wind, and were dismasted.

TRUE COPY.

The Bathaw of Tripoli has ordered away the American agent, who has arrived at Carthagena. Said Bathaw has made some new demands on the United States; and declares, that if they are not complied with, that his Corsairs will be ordered by him to take American vessels. This information capt. Smith will communicate to all Americans he should meet with that they might use the necessary precautions, and that cap. Smith will proceed with dispatches to the U. States, and follow his original instructions, which he has received from the underwritten confid for the United States.

A letter from the consul of the United States, at Gibraltar, of which the following is a copy, was received yesterday morning at the office of the Secretary of State.

GIBRALTAR, May 7.

SIR,
The bearer of my last, being still detained, I now have to inform you that on the 4th inst. arrived his Britannic Majesty's sloop of war Chidlers, in fix days from the Channel fleet, with advices of the French fleet having slipt out of Brest in a fog, unperceived.—Said sloop met an English frigate, from whith she learned that she had been chased by the out-scouts of an enemy's fleet, of 19 sail of the line, supposed to be the above one, joined by four Spanish ships from Ferrol: they were seen in the latitude of Oporto. This the Earl of St. Vincent communicated to me, that I might apprise the commanders of American vessels bound to the westward, of their danger. Admiral Lord Keith, with the British fleet of the 14th sail of the line, was at anchor off Cadiz. On the receipt of the above intelligence, they got under weigh, and went for Cape St. Vincent. A French Admiral and several frigates arrived at Cadiz, some days ago, to take the command of some Spanish ships; from which it is conjectured a junction of those fleets was in agitation. When the Chidlers left the Channel fleet, it was proceeding for the coast of Ireland.

On the evening of the 5th inst. the French fleet paffed the Gut, going to the eastward, with a fresh southerly wind, and very hazy; 34 sail were counted, of which 16 were of the line. Next morning Earl St. Vincent sent to inform me that the Americans bound to the westward should be ready to proceed the moment wind came about, as the French fleet went past yesterday. Open boats, &c. are sent to endeavor to get out of the Gut with dispatches to apprise Lord Keith of the French fleet having paffed this, and to follow them.

Sir,
I have the honor to be,
Your most obedient, and
Most humble servant,

JOHN GAVINO.

15th May.

On the 10th inst. Lord Keith, with his fleet, arrived here from off Cadiz, when Earl St. Vincent embarked, and they ed next day, with 16 sail of the line, of which fix were three deckers, for the east. It seems that Spain has given up to France 15 sail of the line, at Cadiz; and by the report of several boats, 19 sail of the line from thence, with some frigates, took this port to the east, two nights ago. Several cutters in quest of the British fleet, and dispatches, &c. have arrived from England. Admiral Gardiner is expected off Cadiz with 15 sail of the line, which no doubt will go up the Mediterranean, when they find the French and Spaniards are gone there.

OBITUARY.

Departed this life, on the 25th ult. at his feast in this town, Col. GEORGE NICHOLAS, Professor of Law and Politics, in the Transylvania University.

Vain would be the attempt to calculate the loss the public has sustained in the death of Col. Nicholas—the ability and firmness which he has constantly displayed in his efforts to detect and expose every attempt to invade his country's rights, must endear him to the recollection of every true republican—and next to a numerous and affectionate family, the youth of Kentucky will long deplore the loss.

BALTIMORE, July 9.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in St. Thomas', dated 25th June, to a gentleman in this city.

There is no news here of late date, but there is a report of the French and Spanish fleets consisting of 27 sail of the line of battle ships being out, bound for Ireland, and of their having chased lord Bridport with 9 sail; I hope the latter may fall in with them only 20 sail; I think they will give a good account of them. Sir Sydney Smith has gone to Algiers on a secret expedition. The affairs of the continent wear a different aspect to what they did some time ago. The Austrians have beat the French in all directions; on the one side they have forced them to repel the Rhine, and on the side of Italy have driven them back to Rome; the Swiss have risen and expelled them from the Cantons, and in short, to give you a striking idea of their distress, the directory have declared the republic in danger.

Extract of a letter from St. Thomas', 24 June, 1798, to a mercantile house in this city.

I have a letter from Dr Stevens, of the 30th ult. from Cape Francois, who mentions in positive terms, that all matters were arranged with gen. Toussaint; that he had an interview with general Maitland, who was going to Jamaica, and expected shortly to meet him again at Port-au-Prince. Every thing was settled between them, so as to secure to the Americans an uninterrupted commerce with the colony. Rigaud, however, was opposed to the measures; and 'tis not unlikely he may occasion a defeat of the whole. Certain it is, that serious disputes exist between the two commanders, and there is no saying what may be the result."

The Transylvania University

Is now established on such a footing, that education may be had at it, on as extensive a plan and as moderate terms, as at any institution of the kind, in the United States.

The Greek and Latin languages will be taught there, together with Mathematics, Geography, the Belles Lettres, and every other branch of learning, that makes part of the useful course of academic education.

A gentleman well qualified for that purpose, will teach the French language.

Those who wish to study Law and Politics, may do it to advantage under a professor appointed for the purpose. An extensive law library is provided for the use of the students.

And such as intend to study Medicine, may be instructed in Anatomy, Chemistry, Surgery, Midwifery, and the Theory and Practice of Physic; there being two professors appointed, to lecture on those different branches.

Board may be had at the University at the moderate sum of fifteen pounds per year. For this sum, the board will be cleared, and their cloaths washed and mended;—the furniture, their beds, washings, candles and firewood, in their own apartments. One of the teachers will reside in the house; consequently proper attention will be paid to their morals. Good boarding may likewise be had in the neighborhood of the University, and on moderate terms.

The terms of tuition are four pounds a year, to be paid quarterly, in advance, for which we are taught the Languages, Geography, &c. Twenty dollars a year for the students at law, with an addition of five dollars a term, for the use of the law library, to be paid half yearly in advance, and twenty dollars a year for those who attend the professors of medicine. No student will be received or continued, unless he conforms to these regulations.
